On the 100 year anniversary of formal fish and wildlife conservation in Delaware, the Division of Fish and Wildlife is pleased to provide the 2011/2012 Delaware Hunting Guide. We are particularly proud of the enhanced quality of this year's hunting guide, and hope that you find the document useful and attractive. Please take the time to familiarize yourself with the helpful hunting, trapping, licensing, public land, and hunter education information contained within the guide.

If you enjoy hunting, Delaware is where you want to be! Delaware provides a variety of quality hunting opportunities in a diversity of habitats, ranging from our expansive forests and fields to our productive wetlands and waters. You can experience the excitement of big game hunting as you pursue the abundant white-tailed deer, the challenge and heritage of diverse waterfowl hunting, or the pleasure and tradition of small game hunting.

The Division's professional staff is dedicated to helping you experience enjoyable, productive, and safe hunting trips. We provide vital habitat management, public land access, scientific research, licensing, education, and administrative services to properly manage, conserve, and provide access to our wildlife resources. Our hunting laws and regulations are designed to provide quality hunting and sustainable wildlife populations -- both now and in the future -- and our courteous enforcement agents ensure public cooperation to conserve our wildlife resources. Your license and stamp fees help support wildlife management and conservation, public hunting areas, and the many other services that we deliver to you.

Hunting in Delaware is a cherished and valued part of our culture, both as a recreational sport and as a family tradition. Looking to the future, make sure you "take a kid hunting" so that we can pass on our hunting traditions and heritage to future generations who will benefit from our current conservation efforts. Wishing you a memorable, safe, and productive hunting season...

ESSENTIAL NEWS AND REMINDERS FOR THE 2011-2012 HUNTING SEASON

- There is a new phone number and web site for registering deer and obtaining a Hip Number, License Exempt Number and Snow Goose Conservation Order Permit Number. The toll free number is 1-855-335-4868 (1-855-DELHUNT). The new web site is www.dnrec.delaware.gov/delhunt. Note that the Snow Goose Conservation Order Permit is only available through the web site. If you have problems with these systems, call (302) 735-3600 during normal business hours (8:00a.m. - 4:30p.m.) Monday - Friday.
- Deer may be hunted with crossbows in accordance with statutes and regulations of the State of Delaware governing the hunting of deer from September 1 (September 2 if September 1 is a Sunday) through the last day of January, provided hunter orange is displayed in accordance with § 718 of Title 7 when it is also lawful to hunt deer with a gun. Crossbows may be equipped with a scope. There is no maximum pull weight for a crossbow and crossbows may not be transported on or within any vehicle with the crossbow in the cocked position.
- No person shall use a longbow for hunting if it has a pull weight of less than 35 pounds.
- Red fox may be killed in accordance with the statutes and regulations of the State of Delaware governing the hunting of red fox from November 1 through the last day of February, excluding Sundays. It is unlawful to kill a red fox that is being pursued by dogs. Red foxes may be killed using a longbow, crossbow, shotgun, rim fire or center fire rifle up to .25 caliber or a muzzle-loading rifle. During any deer firearms season, it will be unlawful to hunt red fox with any firearm that is not also legal for deer hunting.
- Hunters and trappers that are license exempt are required to obtain an annual License Exempt Number (LEN) from the Division at no cost. If a licensed exempt hunter chooses to purchase a license anyway, then they do not have to obtain the exempt Number. The LEN system was created so that game harvest and opinions of license exempt hunters and trappers could be evaluated and considered when establishing new statutes, regulations and policies. If you obtain this identification number, use it whenever you are asked for your license number such as for registering a deer or obtaining a HIP number.

- Gray squirrels may be hunted using a .17 through .22 caliber pellet firearm with a rifled barrel.
- Non-toxic shot is required for hunting rails, snipe and moorhens.
- No person will be allowed to place in the field any set or unset equipment associated with the trapping of game animals until the opening day of any state approved trapping season. All trapping equipment has to be removed by the last day of the trapping season.

ONLINE LICENSING

- Electronic Agent Online Licensing: As of January 1, 2010, the Division of Fish & Wildlife's Electronic Agent Online Licensing System is operational for the sale of Delaware Hunting and Fishing Licenses. This electronic system replaces the manual handwritten license sales program. There are over 85 Electronic Agents participating across the state along with the Dover Fish and Wildlife office at 89 Kings Highway. A listing of participating Agents can be found on the Divisions web site www.fw.delaware.gov or by calling 302-739-9918. This Electronic Agent System joins the Division of Fish and Wildlife's Automated Online Licensing System that is available on the Division's web site www.fw.delaware.gov where hunting/fishing licenses can be conveniently purchased and printed from any compatible computer at home or office 24 hours a day 7 days a week. The electronic license number automatically generated for each license consists of 15 or 16 characters specific to each license. Please use the entire license number when purchasing additional deer tags, permits and checking your deer.
- When purchasing your duck stamp on the electronic systems, the stamp image is printed on your license if you purchase your hunting license at the same time. If you purchase the stamp separately you will receive the stamp image. The Division no longer mails original duck stamps automatically at the end of the season (June 30th of each year). If you would like an original stamp sent to you please call (302) 739-9918 and give us your name, address and order ID number after you purchase the electronic stamp.
- For more licensing information contact Candace Dunning at 302-739-9918. For information on ordering Collector Duck Stamp(s) and prints, contact Amanda Belford at 302-739-9911. The collector stamps and prints are not available online.

DOVES

- Non-toxic shot: Remember that during September, all dove hunting on State Wildlife Areas must be done using non-toxic shot.

SNOW GEESE

- Conservation Order: The snow goose Conservation Order (CO) is expected to reopen during the winter and spring of 2012 after other waterfowl hunting is closed. When the CO is open, snow goose hunters can use unplugged shotguns and electronic calls. In addition, hunting hours are extended to a half hour before sunrise to a half hour after sunset and daily bag and possession limits are removed. Participants hunting during the CO must have a valid Delaware or Maryland hunting license, a 2011 Delaware waterfowl stamp (Federal stamp not required), a Delaware HIP number and the free CO permit issued by the Division. This permit can be obtained by computer registration at www.dnrec.delaware.gov/delhunt. The need for the Delaware Waterfowl Stamp follows the requirements on page 14 of this guide as related to hunter age.

DEER

- Deer Registration: Each person who hunts and kills a deer shall, within 24 hours of killing said deer, register their deer by phone or over the internet through systems authorized by the Division (www.dnrec.delaware.gov/delhunt or 1-855-335-4868). After registering a deer, hunters will be given a deer registration number. This number must be recorded in ink on the approved tag used on the deer and must remain with the head and/or carcass until the mount is picked up from the taxidermist or the meat is processed and stored as food. Hunters may field dress their deer before registering it but only the internal organs may be removed before registration. All other parts, (e.g. antlers, hide, meat, etc...) must remain attached to the animal, until such deer has been registered. Additionally, it shall be unlawful to knowingly enter incorrect information when registering a deer.
- White-tailed Deer Research – Harvesting Tagged Deer: This past year, the University of Delaware in collaboration with the Delaware Division and Fish and Wildlife, captured and tagged deer in Delaware. All deer received numbered ear tags, and some received radio-collars. Both of which allow us to collect data on deer ecology and hunter harvests. Hunters should treat deer with collars and ear tags as any other deer. If a marked deer is legal for harvest, then it may be harvested. If a hunter harvests a marked deer, they are asked to call the phone number listed on the metal ear tag (302) 831-4621, so information concerning the harvested deer can be collected. Somebody will contact them for further information as soon as possible. Since many of these deer are reported during the hectic firearms season, please feel free to contact us again if you have not been contacted within a few days of previously calling.
- Safety Zone: the safety zone for hunting deer by archery or crossbow device during established archery and crossbow seasons has been reduced to 50 yards.

DELAWARE'S WILDLIFE ACTION PLAN

Wildlife biologists across the continent are facing challenges concerning the conservation of wildlife species and their habitat. In response, each state has developed a plan to address both the common and unique issues affecting wildlife in each respective state. The Delaware Wildlife Action Plan (DEWAP) addresses and prioritizes the issues facing wildlife and the actions required to conserve these species as vital components of the state's natural resources. Residents of Delaware play an important role in the execution of the DEWAP and its future success. Engaging in the conservation of Delaware's natural resources is a necessary step in creating an environment that can be enjoyed by present and future residents of Delaware; including the ones that live outdoors. Please visit <http://www.dnrec.state.de.us/nhp/information/CWCS2.asp> to learn more about Delaware's Wildlife Action Plan and the steps that the Department of Natural Resources and Environmental Control is taking to provide a more livable Delaware for all.

PRIVATE LANDOWNER ASSISTANCE

Delaware landowners hold over 80% of the land in Delaware, making them powerful decision-makers when it comes to land development and conservation. As land development increases, so does the pressure on wildlife habitat, species, and natural resources. Conservation efforts made by landowners are necessary to ensure healthy ecosystems and wildlife populations that future generations are entitled to enjoy. To support landowners in this effort, many state and federal agencies offer incentive programs with technical and financial assistance available to restore or enhance wildlife habitat. There are several programs available within DNREC that aim to engage landowners in conservation efforts. DNREC also partners with federal and private organizations to achieve the same goal of conserving natural resources for a more livable Delaware.

OPPORTUNITIES AND SPECIAL PERMITS FOR DISABLED HUNTERS

- A variety of hunting opportunities exists for disabled hunters in Delaware. State wildlife areas offer specialized blinds/stands and hunting locations to meet the needs of people with varying degrees of physical disabilities. Special permits such as crossbow and hunting from a vehicle permits are also available in certain situations. For more information about the Division's disabled hunter opportunities, contact the Wildlife Section at 739-9912.

DELAWARE DUCK STAMP PROGRAM

2011 Delaware Duck Stamp

Beginning with black ducks painted by Ned Mayne in 1980, the first year of Delaware's waterfowl art competition, 32 of the State's waterfowl species have adorned the annual stamp that is required of waterfowl hunters and prints that are collected by conservationists. The Division of Fish & Wildlife, in partnership with Delaware Ducks Unlimited, began the duck stamp and print program in 1980 to raise funds for waterfowl conservation, including acquiring and improving the wetland habitats that are vital for the survival of migratory waterfowl. To date, more than $2.5 million has been raised. These funds improve waterfowl habitat in Delaware and Canada. This conservation effort helps to ensure that waterfowl species will prosper and provide enjoyment for generations to come. Thank you for your support!

The 2011 stamp will highlight the third in a new series. The new series is open to all Delaware Native Species and can include any other related subject. The 2011 prints and stamps will be available July 1, 2011 in addition to the 2010 and 2009 stamps and prints. After June 30, 2011, the 2008 prints and stamps will be destroyed in accordance with Duck Stamp Program policy. For information on the Delaware Duck Stamp Program or to reserve and purchase stamps/prints contact the Division at 302-739-9911 or visit our internet site: <http://www.fw.delaware.gov/Hunting/Pages/DuckStamp.aspx>

It is now legal to hunt deer with a handgun during any shotgun deer season. The handgun must be used in place of a shotgun. You cannot carry both in the field at the same time.

Only 2 antlered bucks may be taken during any license year by all methods and seasons combined. The license year runs from July 1 – June 30.

AUTOMATED DEER CHECKING SYSTEM – NEW PHONE NUMBER AND WEBSITE ADDRESS

All successful deer hunters must register their deer within 24 hours of harvest. Hunters can register their deer by calling the toll free number 1-855-DEL-HUNT (1-855-335-4868) or by going to www.dnrec.delaware.gov/delhunt, hunters may officially register their deer. Hunters will answer a series of questions by using the telephone or computer keypad. At the end of the questions, hunters will be given a deer harvest registration number. This number will serve as proof the animal was checked and should be kept for your records and written in ink on the deer tag utilized on the animal harvested. If you have problems with this system call (302) 735-3600. Hunters that take their deer to a butcher shop or taxidermist will need to supply their registration number to the shop owner as proof the deer was registered.

DEER TAGS

RESIDENT LICENSED HUNTERS

Delaware hunting licenses come with 2 antlerless tags and 2 doe tags. Hunter's Choice Tags are available for $10 and come with a Quality Buck Tag attached to it at no extra charge. The Hunter's Choice Tag can be used on an antlerless or antlered deer. The Quality Buck Tag can only be used on an antlered deer with a minimum outside spread of 15". Hunters will only be allowed to harvest a maximum of 2 antlered bucks (all seasons combined) by using the Hunter's Choice Tag and the Quality Buck Tag. All other deer taken must be antlerless. Additional antlerless deer tags are available for $10 each.

This deer tag system has been implemented to encourage hunters to harvest antlerless deer and to promote Quality Deer Management. Revenue will be used to fund the phone-in deer registration system and to further improve Delaware's deer management program.

LICENSED EXEMPT HUNTERS

License exempt hunters will be allowed 2 antlerless deer, 2 does and 1 Hunter's Choice deer at no charge. For a Quality Buck Tag, license exempt hunters will have to purchase the combination Hunter's Choice/Quality Buck Tag. For license exempt hunters, the Hunter's Choice Tag will be invalid when the Quality Buck Tag is purchased.

Persons not required to purchase a hunting license in Delaware, should make their own paper "license" and deer tags and carry them along with identification while hunting. Exempt hunters can also obtain a free permanent license with deer tags by contacting the Division's Licensing Section.

NON-RESIDENT DEER TAGS

Non-resident hunting licenses will come with 2 Antlerless Tags and 2 doe tags. The cost of an Antlered Deer Tag and a Quality Buck Tag will be $25 each for non-resident hunters. Hunters may purchase only one of each tag.

METHOD OF TAKE

HANDGUN HUNTING

Legal handguns are limited to revolvers and single shot pistols with a minimum barrel length of 5.75 inches and a maximum length of 12.5 inches and chambered for and using straightwall handgun ammunition in .357 magnum, .41 caliber, .41 magnum, .44 caliber, .44 magnum, .45 caliber, .454 caliber, .480 caliber or .50 caliber and using open sights, metallic/mechanical, optical or telescopic sights. Since the .460 casull is a .45 caliber, it is legal under the existing handgun legislation.

The handgun must be carried openly on a sling or in a holster and not concealed. The handguns described above may be used for the pursuit, taking and attempted taking (hunting) of deer on privately owned lands situated south of the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal and on many state-owned wildlife areas. Consult area maps for more details.

It is now legal to hunt deer with a handgun during any shotgun deer season. The handgun must be carried in place of a shotgun. You cannot carry both in the field at the same time.

SHARPS RIFLE

Hunters may use a single shot antique or authentic reproduction black powder Sharps rifle of 45 to 60 caliber using paper patched bullets for hunting deer during any shotgun deer season.

CROSSBOWS

Crossbows used must have a minimum pull weight of 125 pounds, be manufactured after 1980, and have a mechanical safety, and may be equipped with a scope. Crossbows shall not be transported in or on a vehicle while in the cocked position.

VERTICAL BOWS

No person shall use a compound, recurve, or longbow with a pull weight less than 35 pounds.

BAITING

It is lawful to distribute and hunt over bait while hunting deer on privately owned lands only.

HUNTER ORANGE

During a time when it is lawful to take a deer with a firearm, any person hunting any wildlife except migratory game birds in this state shall display on that person's head, chest, and back a total of not less than 400 square inches of hunter orange material. If a hunter utilizes a ground blind to hunt deer during a time when it is lawful to take deer with a firearm and the hunter is completely concealed within a blind, then 400 square inches of hunter orange material shall be placed within 10 feet outside of the blind and at least 3 feet off of the ground.

QUALITY DEER MANAGEMENT ON PUBLIC LANDS

The Cedar Swamp and Woodland Beach State Wildlife Areas are Quality Deer Management Areas. All deer hunters (except hunters under 17 years of age and non-ambulatory hunters) hunting these areas shall not take an antlered deer with a minimum outside antler spread of less than 15 inches at any time, i.e., only bucks that qualify for the existing Quality Buck Tag are now legal. Antlerless deer can still be legally harvested. Quality Deer Management (QDM) is a management philosophy/practice that typically involves the protection of young bucks (yearlings and some 2.5 year-olds) combined with an adequate harvest of female deer to maintain a healthy population in balance with the existing habitat conditions. This level of deer management involves the production of quality deer (bucks, does, and fawns), quality habitat, and quality hunting experiences. When judging size in the field, remember the guideline that you can't shoot a buck in a QDM area unless it has an outside antler spread that is wider than its ears (at least 15 inches). If the outside spread doesn't extend beyond its ears, let it walk. Hunters under 17 years of age and non-ambulatory hunters are exempt from the 15-inch minimum outside spread but must abide by all other area and statewide regulations.

DEER DRIVES

Nonresident hunters may not participate in deer drives on state owned or managed lands. Residents may conduct deer drives with a limit of 6 hunters.

SELLING DEER PARTS OR DEER MEAT

Title 7 § 787 (d) of the Delaware Code states that "No person shall purchase, sell or expose for sale, or transport, ship or possess with the intent to sell, any deer or any part of such deer, except for the hides of lawfully killed deer, at any time."

Therefore, taxidermists and deer butchers may only charge for a service and may only charge those to whom they are providing the service. It is illegal to sell deer taxidermy items and deer meat in Delaware. This includes the "recouping" of processing fees for items or meat not picked up by the legal owner.

STATE DEER RECORDS

The Division maintains records of the top hunter taken deer based on net Boone & Crockett scores on its website at www.fw.delaware.gov/Info/DeerRecords.htm. Any whitetails meeting Pope & Young minimums for bow kills (125 typical, 155 non-typical), Longhunter Society minimums for muzzleloader kills (130 typical, 160 non-typicals) or shotgun kills of 140 typical and better and 160 non-typical and better are eligible for entry. The division is interested in Delaware whitetails taken in any year. Bill Jones, Division biologist and official measurer for Boone & Crockett, Pope & Young and the Longhunter Society, can be contacted at 302-284-4795 for more information.

Special Youth Hunt deer stands will be drawn by a pre-season lottery at Bombay Hook National Wildlife Refuge for Bombay Hook, Woodland Beach and Cedar Swamp. Applications available at Bombay Hook and the Delaware Division of Fish and Wildlife. A lottery for unfilled stands (including pre-season lottery no-shows) will be held at Bombay Hook National Wildlife Refuge 1 1/2 hours before legal shooting time. Hunters should arrive prior to 2 hours before legal shooting time to sign up for the lottery.

SIKA DEER

WHERE ARE THEY FOUND?

Sika deer inhabit marshes, swamps, and associated woodlands and agricultural fields. Sika Deer are a small elk introduced from Asia (China, Japan, Korea, Taiwan) by private citizens into Maryland in 1916. Recently, their range has expanded and some individuals have been found in Delaware. As a result, the Division will allow Delaware hunters to harvest sika deer while hunting for white-tailed deer. The sika deer population in Delaware is still very small and the Division would like to keep it that way. Sika deer are not native to the State, so going along with the Division's goal of not promoting nonnative species they may be harvested.

WHAT DO THEY LOOK LIKE?

They are 2 1/2 feet high at the shoulder, weigh 50-100 pounds and the sika deer coat is dark brown to black. Some even have faint white parallel spots on their back. They also have a white rump. Males (stags) are larger than females (hinds) and have antlers. Males also have a dark shaggy mane running down their neck.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Q: Will sika deer compete with white-tailed deer?

A: Research conducted in Maryland indicates that white-tailed deer and sika deer can coexist and it does not appear that they directly compete with each other. However, more research is needed to confirm this relationship.

Q: Will sika deer breed with white-tailed deer?

A: No, sika deer will not breed with a white-tailed deer. The breeding season for sika deer occurs in mid to late October, while the breeding season for white-tailed deer it occurs in mid-November.

Q: Are sika deer related to white-tailed deer?

A: Sort of, both sika deer and white-tailed deer are members of the deer family (Cervidae), but are of a different genus Cervus (sika deer) and Odocoileus (white-tailed deer). Sika deer are actually more closely related to Rocky Mountain elk than they are to white-tailed deer.

WHAT TO DO IF YOU HARVEST ONE?

Tag the deer with the appropriate tag from you license as you would if you harvested a white-tailed deer. However, instead of registering the deer via the phone/internet registration system please call the Division of Fish and Wildlife at (302) 735-3600.

HARVEST INFORMATION PROGRAM – H.I.P.

If you are a Delaware migratory bird hunter (ducks, geese, doves, woodcock, rails, snipe, and coots); LISTEN UP – You will have to have a H.I.P. number in 2011. What is H.I.P.? H.I.P. is the “Harvest Information Program” being implemented by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service (USFWS). Actually, it was started in 1992 when California, Missouri, and South Dakota participated in the pilot program. For many years, the USFWS has collected waterfowl harvest information through an after the season survey of hunters who purchased Federal duck stamps. This survey was fine for its time, but better information is now needed. Also, the existing survey has not provided harvest data on other migratory birds like doves and woodcock. H.I.P. will fulfill these needs. Under the Harvest Information Program, migratory bird hunters need a special permit to hunt. To get the permit, hunters have to provide their name and address, and answer a few questions about their previous year’s hunting effort and success. This information is collected by the state, remains totally confidential, and goes immediately to the USFWS who randomly selects hunters to receive a survey form. This way, hunters have the forms to record harvest information during the season instead of after the fact like the old survey requires. By surveying while hunting is going on, much better information should be available to the Service for evaluating bird harvest and the status of migratory bird species. If you are going to hunt migratory birds in Delaware during the 2011-2012 season, you MUST have a H.I.P. permit. Call toll free 1-855-335-4868 to obtain your permit number or www.dnrec.delaware.gov/delhunt.

THIS PERMIT IS FREE.

CAUTION:

Shot carries beyond the lethal range. Duck hunters should use extreme caution when selecting the direction they shoot in.

NON-TOXIC SHOT

Non-toxic shot, as approved by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, is required for all waterfowl hunting within the State of Delaware. There are no exceptions. Currently approved non-toxic shot types are steel shot, bismuth-tin, tungsten-iron, tungsten-polymer, tungsten-matrix, tungsten-nickel-iron and tungsten-iron-nickel-tin.

WATERFOWL HUNTERS AND BOATS

Each year more hunters die from drowning and the effects of hypothermia than from gunshot wounds. Most of the accident reports from waterborne hunting fatalities are not dramatic stories. The hunter didn't succumb in an "Outdoor Life and Death" struggle. Rather the accident reports usually read: "Fell out of boat reaching for a decoy and never resurfaced" or capsized boat due to overloading or uneven distribution of decoys, dog, and other hunters. Many hunters do not regard themselves as a "boater" and as a consequence do not consider the special conditions and challenges of the marine environment. Personal Flotation Devices (PFD's) are essential and should be worn at all times. Statistics show that the great majority of capsizing and falls overboard occur with boats less than 20 feet in length. Special type III (wearable) vests for hunting are available and are comfortable and warm for the coldest, nastiest duck and goose hunting days. They can be purchased in camo colors. Hunters use smaller, more easily transportable craft like john boats, bass boats or canoes. Some boat designs are not as stable as others. These types, because of their flat bottoms or narrow beams, are more prone to swamping or capsizing. How can you avoid an unplanned fall into the water?

TAKE A BOATING EDUCATION COURSE

1-800-464-4357 or 739-9915

- Wear your life jacket. Camouflage float coats are available at most marine dealers.
- Never cross large bodies of water during rough weather in a boat that can't take the conditions due to size and/or overloading.
- Stay with your boat if you capsize and can't get to shore. Try to climb on it.
- Avoid standing up or moving around in the boat as little as possible.
- Never move about your boat with a loaded gun or rifle.
- Don't overload, read the capacity plate attached to the inside hull as a guide.
- Distribute your gear eventually.
- Don't drink alcohol, it lowers your body core temperature and encourages one to take chances they wouldn't normally take.

Every sensible hunter knows that guns, alcohol and drugs don't mix. Hunting under the influence of alcohol is a Federal hunting violation not excluding loss of state hunting license if convicted. Those persons born on or after January 1, 1978 must take an approved boating certification course before operating a boat. Contact the Office of Boating Education for more information on taking a boating education course at 302-739-9915 or take an on line course at www.boat-ed.com

WATERFOWL HUNTER WATER SURVIVAL TIPS

Most drownings could have been prevented. What causes them? Drownings occur because the victim made the wrong decision, did not realize the dangers of boating in rough, cold water, was not properly prepared, had the wrong equipment, or failed to wear a life-jacket (PFD). Small boats, by their very nature, are extremely unstable crafts. Often the victim of a small boat accident did not realize just how unstable his craft was. Add to this, cold, rough water, and the chances for survival for the sportsman fallen overboard are very slim. COLD WATER KILLS—even those in excellent condition who know how to swim.

THE FIVE PRIMARY CAUSES OF WATER DEATHS ARE:

1. Hypothermia – The rapid loss of body heat in cold water.
2. “Dry” Drowning – Constriction of the throat, and the resulting suffocation, due to a sudden inrush of cold water.
3. “Wet” Drowning – The displacement of air in the lungs by water.
4. Massive Heart Attacks in older, out-of-shape, non-swimmers in cold water.
5. Being run over by own boat, especially when starting in gear.

DROWNING IS THE PRIME CAUSE OF HUNTING DEATHS!

Aggressive CPR (rescue breathing and heart massage) can save your life. What do you and your fishing, hunting, and canoeing friends know about it?

MANY PEOPLE—APPARENTLY DEAD FROM DROWNING—MAY NOT BE!

Cold water not only kills, but in some instances, it preserves. Warming drowning victims from the inside out by CPR or warm, moist inhalation may bring them back to life!

SNOW GEESE

Hunters are reminded that Delaware and Maryland have a reciprocal agreement for hunting snow geese. Delaware hunters can hunt snow geese in Maryland with their Delaware hunting license provided they have a Maryland duck stamp, a Federal Duck Stamp, a Maryland H.I.P. number and are in compliance with Maryland Hunter Safety laws. Maryland hunters can hunt snow geese in Delaware with their Maryland hunting license provided they have a Delaware duck stamp, a Federal Duck Stamp, a Delaware H.I.P. number and are in compliance with the Delaware Hunter Safety laws. This agreement only applies to residents of Maryland and Delaware.

WATERFOWL

- The non-resident 3-day hunting license can now be used to hunt waterfowl provided the hunter has purchased the federal and state waterfowl stamps and has a H.I.P. permit.

AVIAN INFLUENZA
(BIRD FLU)
FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

HOW CONCERNED SHOULD DELA-WARE BIRD HUNTERS BE ABOUT AVIAN INFLUENZA H5N1?

Hunters should be aware of and educated about highly pathogenic (HP) Avian Influenza

(A1) H5N1, but not overly concerned about it at present. Cases of human infections of HP H5N1 from wild birds are extremely rare and no occurrences have occurred from hunter-harvested birds. Additionally at present, HP H5N1 has not been found in any birds in Delaware, the Atlantic Flyway or North America. Also, it is not clear how persistent this virus is in wild bird populations or whether wild birds pose a long-distance, long-term means of spreading this disease. Hunters should take common-sense precautions and use good hygiene while hunting, cleaning birds and preparing game for the table.

CAN HUMANS CATCH AVIAN INFLUENZA FROM WILD BIRDS?

Cases of human infections of HP H5N1 from wild birds are extremely rare and, to date, are associated only with handling birds found dead, but additional direct transmission from wild birds to humans cannot be excluded. Normally, avian flu viruses are primarily a “bird disease” passed between various species of wild birds, with some highly pathogenic forms affecting domestic poultry. Almost all of the relatively small number of human cases of AI H5N1 have occurred in people who have been heavily exposed to infected poultry or involved in poultry processing.

HOW CAN I PROTECT MYSELF FROM AVIAN INFLUENZA (H5N1) AND OTHER DISEASES WHILE HUNTING?

Since it is possible that AI HP H5N1 as well as other diseases may be acquired from hunter contact with infected birds, hunters should take these common-sense precautions:

- Do not handle birds that are obviously sick or birds found dead.
- Keep your game birds cool, clean, and dry.
- Do not eat, drink, or smoke while cleaning your birds.
- Use rubber gloves when cleaning game.
- Wash your hands with soap and water or alcohol wipes after dressing birds.
- Clean all tools and surfaces immediately afterward; use hot soapy water, then disinfect with a 10% chlorine bleach solution.
- Cook game meat thoroughly (165°F internal temperature) to kill disease organisms and parasites.

WHAT ABOUT HUNTING DOGS?
ARE THEY AT RISK?

Dogs used for hunting are not considered to be at risk. Dog owners should consult with their veterinarians for more information about avian influenza in pets.

Foothold traps may only be used with permission of the landowner and only during the muskrat season, except in certain areas where they may be used throughout the year (except on Sundays) to trap raccoons in eastern New Castle and Kent Counties. Foothold traps larger than No. 11/2 or No. 1 coil-spring may only be used in tidal areas including: tidal marshes; below the mean high tide in rivers; diked marsh that was formerly tidal; or islands surrounded by tidal marsh. River otters may be trapped in mill ponds and streams with a special free permit from the Division.

All other traps, except muskrat traps, must be also marked with identification (such as box traps). Small leghold traps (No. 1 1/2 or smaller/No. 1 coil-spring or smaller) may be used in any marsh, stream, or ditch normally containing water, or freshwater wetlands in addition to being lawful in tidal areas.

HUNTING AT BOMBAY HOOK & PRIME HOOK NATIONAL WILDLIFE REFUGES

Stretched along the eastern coastline of Delaware near Milton and Smyrna and covering 26,000 acres, the Bombay Hook & Prime Hook National Wildlife Refuges provide habitat for a diversity of wildlife. Featuring tidal salt marshes, impounded marshes, timbered swamps, ponds, and upland areas of forests and fields, these refuges support an abundance of wildlife. Tens of thousands of waterfowl arrive in the fall and songbirds and shorebirds migrate through in the spring and summer. The refuges are also havens for wading birds, ospreys, bald eagles, and more. Deer, red foxes, beavers, and grassland birds are found on these refuges, as well as many species of turtles, fish, insects, non-poisonous snakes, frogs, and salamanders.

Game species are sought after by avid hunters on both refuges. Hunting, which is identified by the National Wildlife Refuge System Improvement Act of 1997 as one of the six wildlife-dependent recreational uses on refuges, is an important part of Delaware's heritage and tradition. Public hunting opportunities are available for deer, upland game & webless migratory birds, and waterfowl on both refuges. A complete listing of hunting information and regulations can be accessed for Bombay Hook National Wildlife Refuge at <http://bombayhook.fws.gov> or (302) 653-9345 and for Prime Hook National Wildlife Refuge at <http://primehook.fws.gov> or (302) 684-8419.

Prime Hook and Bombay Hook have a long standing history of partnering with the Delaware Division of Fish & Wildlife. A few of the many examples of these conservation highlights include endangered species management, enhancing hunter education & hunting opportunities, improving wildlife habitat, and promoting outreach and environmental education.

DELAWARE HUNTER EDUCATION PROGRAM

THE DELAWARE HUNTER EDUCATION PROGRAM 2011-2012

Delaware's Hunter Education Program was established in 1970. Section 501, Title 7, Delaware Code, requires all persons born after January 1, 1967 to satisfactorily complete a Basic Hunter Education Course in order to obtain a Delaware hunting license or Youth Hunting License. Since 1970, tens of thousands of Delaware hunters have been certified by the volunteer instructors of the Delaware Hunter Education Program. The program has been extremely successful and effective in significantly reducing risk and accidents.

Emerging factors such as changing demographics and the decreasing amount of habitat and accessible open space for hunting have created new considerations for hunters, landowners, the Division of Fish and Wildlife and Delaware's general public who may or may not be hunters themselves. In response, the Delaware Hunter Education Program has also changed to meet the demands and challenges of a new hunting era. In addition to a live firing requirement, today's curriculum includes an increased emphasis on safety and ethical behavior landowner relations, wildlife identification, wildlife management and conservation, hunting laws and regulations.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

Courses including live firing are offered free of charge throughout the year. All firearms and ammunition are provided by the Hunter Education Program. Please try to complete your training at least one month before you plan to hunt. Your certification cards can be printed out online a few days after you complete the course. The card must be presented to purchase a Delaware hunting license.

ADVANCE REGISTRATION IS REQUIRED.

Seating is limited and classes will fill quickly as hunting season approaches. Delaware law now requires live firing of a shotgun as part of basic hunter education.

A RELEASES OF LIABILITY IS REQUIRED FOR PARTICIPATION IN ANY HUNTER EDUCATION COURSE WITH LIVE FIRING.

The form is a legal release. It can be downloaded and filled out when registering online or requested by calling the Hunter Education Office – 302-735-3600.

IF YOU ARE UNDER 18, A PARENT OR GUARDIAN NEEDS TO SIGN FOR YOU AND HAVE THEIR SIGNATURE VERIFIED BY A NOTARY.

IF YOU ARE 18 OR OLDER, YOU DON'T NEED TO HAVE THE WAIVER NOTARIZED BUT YOU STILL NEED TO SIGN IT AND MAIL IT BACK.

Please return original to the hunter education office one week prior to course begin to complete your course registration.

A copy is also available in the Delaware Hunting and Trapping Guide or may be picked up at the DNREC R & R Building at 89 Kings Highway in Dover. Certification will not be issued to youths under the age of ten. Students under the age of twelve must be accompanied by a responsible adult. Parents are reminded that younger students require a level of maturity and vocabulary sufficient for understanding adult subject matter and completing assignments. Students of smaller physical body size may find it very difficult or impossible to successfully complete live firing exercises.

In addition to mandatory Basic Hunter Education, Turkey Education and Trapper Education courses, the program offers advanced courses in Bowhunting, Muzzleloading, Handgun Hunting for Deer, Successful Deer Hunting, Precision Firearms for Large Game, Young Waterfowler's Program, Deer Workshops etc. The Delaware Master Hunter program now provides advanced hunter education for the experienced hunter and additionally strives to develop advocates, ambassadors and role models for hunting with the goal of continuing the heritage of responsible hunting and insuring its future for generations to come. All of these courses and programs give the hunter/trapper a resource for continued educational opportunities that keep the hunter updated in specific disciplines. Hunters have a responsibility to themselves, other hunters, the landowner and the wildlife, to continue their education beyond the basics.
